Ike Gives Committee Power

Senate Group Allowed To Probe Tax Returns

Washington, March 18 (AP)—The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee today received authority to examine any tax returns for the years 1945 to 1957.

The White House announced that President Eisenhower has signed an order giving the committee power to look over federal income, estate, gift, excess profits, and "certain other returns."

The order stipulates that information the committee obtains is to be kept confidential except that it "may report information pertinent to its investigation to the Senate."

Must Have Authority

Under general law, tax returns are confidential and congressional committees may not examine them except by express authority from the President.

The White House described Eisenhower's action as routine, and in line with authority granted to various other congressional investigating committees in the past.

Powerful New Weapon

However, it puts a powerful new weapon in the hands of the committee.

Certain management practices as well as labor union operations already are under inquiry, the investigators said.

Robert Kennedy, chief counsel of the committee, searching for evidence of racketeering in labor and industry, said later hearings on alleged payment of more than $20,000 in Teamsters union funds to Nathan W. Shefferman, a Chicago management consultant, will lead into certain companies.

The first three weeks of the committee's hearings have dealt with an alleged plot by teamsters officials to "muscle in" on vice profits in Portland, Ore. The hearings resume tomorrow with more testimony from Frank W. Brewster, west coast teamsters boss.

Brewster Denial

In testimony last Friday, Brewster entered a general denial of charges that he was allied with underworld figures in an effort to take over control of gambling and other forms of vice in Portland. But under questioning, he conceded that union funds were used to pay some expenses for his horse trainer and jockey.

Meantime, a federal grand jury was expected to finish today its consideration of bribery charges against James R. Hoffa, reputed to be the real power in the giant teamsters union. Whatever action the grand jury decides to make may not be known for several days.

Hoffa, a teamster vice president and head of the union's midwest organization, was arrested (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Woman Is Injured In One of Three Weekend Mishaps

A woman was reported injured in one of three city traffic mishaps over the weekend and a driver was held on an "endangering speed" charge after one of the other collisions.

Earl Gardner, 48, of 86 Farrelly street, was fined $20 by City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, following his arrest Saturday night after a mishap at Albany and Clinton avenues.

Police Report

A police report at 10:20 p. m., Saturday said that Gardner's sedan, headed west on Albany avenue, and making a turn into Clinton avenue, struck a sedan, owned by the Kingston Beef Corp., 12 Meadow street, and driven by Max Mones, 56, of 231 Washington avenue, which was parked on Clinton avenue.

Gardner was arrested by Officer George Dohnken. Lillian B. Gaudette, of 45 Green street, was injured in an accident on Broadway near East Chester street, and reported Sunday by her husband, Charles J. Gaudette.

Struck in Rear

The Gaudette car, headed south on Broadway, and waiting for a traffic light, was struck and damaged in the rear at about 3:15 p. m., by the car of Orlando Felipe, Box 83, Ruby.

Mrs. Gaudette, the report said, was thrown forward and suffered injuries of the left knee and forearm.

Three cars were involved in an accident at John and Crown streets at 9:36 a. m., Sunday, but no injuries were reported.

Officers John Crespinio and Harold DeGraff said the sedan of Emerick Ricland, 62, of 14 Otis street, and that of Sidney Paikoff, 29, of Syracuse, were in collision at the intersection. The Paikoff car also came in contact with the station wagon of Edward N. Ortelio, of St. Remy, which was parked in front of 31 Crown street.

Free World Mourns Magsaysay

Carlos P. Garcia Philippines Head

Manila, March 18 (AP)—Vice President Carlos P. Garcia took over the reins of government today as the Philippine nation and the free world mourned the plane-crash death of President Ramon Magsaysay.

Garcia flew in from the SEATO conference in Australia several hours after Magsaysay's charred body was found in the wreckage of his plane on a Cebu island mountainside.

The 60-year-old vice president took the oath of office as fourth president of the Philippine republic before Chief Justice Ricardo Paras. He will serve until after next November's presidential elections, which now promises to be a wide-open fight.

A staunch supporter of Magsaysay's foreign policy, Garcia is expected to continue the late president's aim of strengthening American-Philippine friendship.

Magsaysay Red Foe

Magsaysay, 49-year-old champion of democracy and bitter foe of communism, perished early Sunday when his twin-engine plane crashed in dense jungle just after leaving Cebu for Manila.

Only one passenger, a Philippine newspaperman, survived the crash which claimed the lives of 26 persons, including several top government officials and educators, and members of Magsaysay's staff. The president was returning from giving two commencement speeches in Cebu.

A close guard was placed around the wreckage as officials made clear they had not ruled out the possibility of Communist sabotage. As Defense Secretary, Magsaysay had wrecked the Communist Huk Rebel movement in the infant island republic.

Ike Sends Message

Messages of condolence poured in from abroad to the Philippine government. Magsaysay's widow and their three children.

From aboard the cruiser Canberra, President Eisenhower in a statement said the people of the Philippines, the United States and "the entire free world have lost a valiant champion of freedom." (Continued on Page 9, Col. 6)

President Will Get Close-up Of Missile Test

En route with Eisenhower March 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower gets a look today at a scheduled navy attempt to shoot down an old radio-controlled warplane with Terrier guided missiles.

Plans for firing a pair of the surface-to-air missiles from aboard the heavy cruiser Canberra were made on a weather-permitting basis.

Eisenhower seemed to be making good progress toward ridding himself of a stubborn cough and head cold on this sea voyage. The untanned President looked rested and well in telling newsmen on the Canberra deck yesterday that he was feeling "very good."

"I must say," he chuckled, "my old bald head is getting sort of tanned."

Physician Encouraged

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician who also is aboard the cruiser, said Eisenhower's ear inflammation has cleared up and that he was coughing "very little" since putting to sea last Thursday evening on a leisurely six-day cruise to Bermuda.

Eisenhower is due in Bermuda Wednesday afternoon to start four days of talks there Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

To give Eisenhower plenty of warm sunshine, the Canberra has been poking lazily around (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Would Extend Law on All Cars

Ceilings on Credit Charges Seen on Way

Albany, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—Enactment of state laws that for the first time would clamp ceilings on credit charges for all types of consumer goods was virtually assured today.

The path for action was cleared yesterday when Gov. Harriman's Democratic administration and the Legislature's Republican leadership announced they had reached agreement on the move.

Bi-partisan measures were offered in the Legislature today that would limit credit charges on such items as clothing, furniture, jewelry and household appliances.

Would Apply to Cars

The legislation also would extend a 1956 law to include all motor vehicles sold for non-commercial use, regardless of price, under credit-charge ceilings. The current law applies only to cars sold for $3,000 or less.

A Republican source said the legislation "split the middle" on rival GOP and Democratic plans. He predicted that it would win speedy passage and Harriman's signature.

Face Heavy Schedule

In other developments: 1. A legislative study committee proposed that the state allow private companies to build and operate skiing developments in the forest preserve.

2. The Senate buckled down for another rare Monday-afternoon working session. The lawmakers faced a heavy calendar.

The consumer legislation would fix ceiling of $10 per $100 a year on all single-purchase installment-plan purchases of up to $500. Beyond $500, credit charges would be limited to $8 per $100 per year.

Take in All Data

In addition, time-payment contracts would have to contain detailed information on the price (Continued on Page 9, Col. 4)

Nasser Act On Control Is Basis Situation Is Same As Before Oct. 29

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles called Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir to his office today to hear her urgent plea for U. S. action to curb Egyptian moves in the Middle East before war erupts there.

Dulles arrived back in Washington yesterday from the Far East. He held immediate consultations with top aides on the Egypt-Israel crisis and set up today's meeting with Mrs. Meir.

Bids for U. S. Support

Mrs. Meir flew from Jerusalem in a dramatic bid for American support. She arrived yesterday at the same airport and almost at the same time as Dulles, back from the Far East. But they never met.

Dulles closeted himself with aides for a couple of hours, then authorized an announcement that he would see Mrs. Meir today. The time was not announced.

Mrs. Meir made her flight after Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered Egyptians to take back control over the Gaza Strip from United Nations forces which had replaced withdrawing Israeli troops. This, plus Egyptian talk about re-imposing the Suez Canal and Gulf of Aqaba blockades against Israel shipping, ran counter to Israeli assumptions on which the withdrawal was based.

Says Crisis Worsens

"I am quite convinced," Mrs. Meir told reporters at the airport yesterday, "that with the Egyptians in the Gaza Strip we have returned to the same situation that we had before Oct. 29."

That was the date Israel attacked Egypt last fall, reporters noted. Did that mean, she was asked, that Israel would fight again if Egypt assumed too much authority in Gaza?

Has Busy Day

Dulles booked a busy day. Besides seeing Mrs. Meir and catching up on Middle East developments during his 11-day absence in the Far East, he arranged afternoon appearances before the House Foreign Affairs and Senate Foreign Relations committees.

The committees assembled for a report from Dulles on two conferences—the one he attended at Canberra, Australia, as a member of the Southeast Asia Treaty (SEATO) Council, and the one he leaves for Wednesday at Bermuda where President Eisenhower will confer for four days with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Danger Looms for Israel

Authoritative sources said Mrs. Meir came to impress on Dulles that Nasser's action, as she put it, "spells danger to the security of Israel" and endangers Mideast peace. She was reported ready to ask the United States to keep what Israel regards as two promises made by President Eisenhower:

1. In his Feb. 20 radio-television address to the nation, Eisenhower said no nation had the right to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba. Further, he said, Egypt should be "dealt with firmly" by the society of nations if it tries to keep Israel out of the gulf or the Suez Canal.

2. Eisenhower declared in a March 2 letter to Israeli Premier Ben-Gurion, that Israel's hopes and expectations were (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Javits Advises Finance Boycott

New York, March 18 (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) says the United States should finance a boycott of the Suez Canal if the Egyptians don't allow all nations to use the waterway.

A boycott, said Javits yesterday, would "pinch the shoe" of Egypt's President Nasser "where it hurts most—economically."

The senator estimated that a boycott would cost the United States 250 million dollars annually. Such a step, he said, would "seriously harm" any efforts to cut the proposed budget, but he added:

"We must contemplate it, because it leads to peace which, in everybody's mind, is superior to everything else."

One Person Is Drowned

Hurricane Rains, Wind Lash Texas Gulf Coast

(By The Associated Press)

Torrential rains and winds of hurricane force lashed the Texas gulf coast yesterday. At least one person drowned when heavy rains flooded streets and highways and a tornado injured several persons and caused scattered damage in the Galveston area.

More than 10 inches of rain fell at Texas City, where every street was flooded for a time by knee-deep water. Winds up to 80 miles per hour knocked down power poles, unroofed homes and cut off telephone and electric service at several towns in Galveston county.

The rains, however, began tapering off along the coast early today.

Twisters also were reported yesterday at Houston and near San Angelo. Lighter rains fell over most of East Texas and hail fell at San Antonio and Bryan.

James J. Simpson, 45, of Texas City, drowned when his car went out of control on a rain-covered highway and careened into a culvert filled with more than five feet of water.

A Negro caretaker, S. S. Martin, and his wife and three children received minor bruises when a twister cut a 4-mile path across the Boyd ranch, seven miles east of Port Bolivar. Their frame house was blown off its foundation. Other buildings in the area received slight damage.

Deputy Sheriff W. J. Ewing said about 200 Port Bolivar residents spent a short time in storm cellars after a rumor spread that the tornado would head back and strike the port itself.

The turbulent weather came when thunderstorms rumbled across the state as moist air from the gulf collided with a cool front moving down from the Texas panhandle. Only traces of rain fell in west Texas, however.

Dispatcher C. W. Whitman of the Galveston sheriff's office said the tornado struck on the C. H. Boyd ranch near Port Bolivar, which lies across a ship channel from Galveston Island.

He said it blew two homes 300 feet off their foundations. At nearby Arcadia, high winds damaged at least 12 houses and garages. The gales hurled a new wing of the First Christian Church into the air, spun it around and demolished it. Several homes were unroofed.

Asst. Fire Chief Jack Long said Boy Scouts were mobilized to fit large tents over homes in Arcadia unroofed by the hurricanes like winds. He said streets were flooded by as much as a foot of water.

At Texas City, police dispatcher F. C. Dawson said water was three feet deep on state highway 146 north of the city, closing it to traffic for some three hours. Streets within the city, he said, were covered by more than a foot of water before the rains began slacking off. Two homes were unroofed at Texas City.

Dawson said several families left homes where water had flooded them in low-lying sections of the city. There was no official evacuation, however, Dawson said.

Streets also were inundated at Dickinson and the Dickinson bayou overflowed at some bridges.

More than 4 inches of rain fell in Houston and Beaumont, but Harris county flood control engineer Howard Jensen said he saw no danger of a general flood in the Houston area.

Memorial

In sad and loving memory of our dear husband and father Grover C. Haley who passed away two years ago today, March 18, 1955.

Lonely months have passed us by
Never a day without a sigh.
The tears we shed no one knows
Or the grief we share and share alone.

It's said that time will always heal
But we know it's never true.
For in our hearts, there's an empty space
No one shall ever fill.

Our thoughts of you are tender
With memories we'll always remember.
Because there was no kinder soul
Who was worth to us a thousand fold.

The happy years we spent with you
Is something we'll never regret.
Now that we are left alone
We'll never once forget.

We miss you more and more each day.
But we have to be content
With just the memories we have of you
And visit your cold and lonely grave.

Holds Conference

Eisenhower conferred for 2 1/2 hours yesterday afternoon with his aide for national security affairs, Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpastor, who flew from Washington with latest reports on the new Middle East crisis and with detailed plans for the Bermuda conference. Goodpastor arrived alongside the Canberra by seaplane.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, declined comment on the Middle East reports Eisenhower got but said Goodpastor's trip had no emergency aspect.

Missiles Ship

The Canberra is one of two United States warships so far equipped with guided missiles. The Terrier variety is described by the Navy as "one of the world's most lethal anti-aircraft weapons."

Hagerty said he wanted to make it clear today's scheduled firing test was routine and would be held regardless of whether the President was aboard.

The plan called for bringing in a "drone" or pilotless warplane from the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The plane was described as of World War 2 vintage and obsolete.

In such a test, the course of the plane is controlled by radio from the cruiser by officers who match wits against the guided missile crew trying to bring down the plane.

The Terrier missile is guided to its target by radar. The missiles are 27 feet long, 2 feet in diameter and weigh more than 1 1/2 tons. They travel about 1,500 miles an hour.

Two Freights Derailed

Buffalo, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—Officials of two railroads reported operations were normal today after two freight train derailments in western New York yesterday. Westbound traffic on the New York Central Railroad was delayed up to four hours when a single gondola car jumped the track near Silver creek in Chautauqua county. The car was derailed by several hundred yards and two switches were damaged, officials said. The train, of about 100 cars, was bound from Buffalo to Collingwood, Ohio. Officials said the accident was probably caused by a burned out journal box but had not completed their investigation.

four sisters, Mrs. Pearl Adin, Mrs. Etta Singer of Kingston; Mrs. B. Lindaur and Mrs. Al Charney of Brooklyn; two brothers, Joseph Vogel of Crestwood, N. Y. and Harry Vogel of Detroit. Burial was in Montrose Cemetery where Rabbi Rubenstein conducted the committal. Bearers were Gilbert Adin, Al Charney, Aaron Adin, Harry Fertel, Rubin Fischweicher and Larry Adin.

Police at Church Remove Iron Pipe On Trouble Call

Reported trouble at the African Union Methodist Church, Foxhall avenue, over the weekend, resulted in police action and confiscation of a two-foot piece of iron pipe Sunday, from near the pulpit.

A report Friday said a pre-siding elder of a church unit (Buffalo district) had served eviction papers on the Rev. S. B. Chappell, the church's pastor, and that the latter refused to leave.

Chappell Asks Help

First report of trouble came late Friday afternoon when the Rev. Chappell notified police headquarters that two men there were making trouble and "threatened to knock the church apart."

Officers Thomas McGrane and Harold DeGrass were dispatched there, and reported that the Rev. M. D. Birt, the elder, had served the eviction papers. The other man, the report said, was "the minister who is supposed to take his (the Rev. Chappell's) place."

It was then noted that "After much discussion, everyone agreed to let a judge settle the argument in the morning."

Then at 12:51 p. m., Sunday, police were requested at the church, and several officers were sent there, but it was said that "no disorder" occurred outdoors.

Police Take Pipe

The report noted, however, that the Rev. Mr. Chappell was "preaching from the pulpit, with an iron pipe 1 1/4-inch by two feet, beside the pulpit." The pipe was taken to police headquarters.

Assistant District Attorney John L. Larkin, was also notified and advised that services at the church be discontinued pending settlement of the dispute.

At the scene in answer to the Sunday afternoon call were Sgt. Carl Janasiewicz, and officers Thomas McGrane, Anthony Turek, Julius Glassman, Sheldon O'Rourke, Ira Hadsel and Frank Monte.

The church was formerly known as St. Mark's African Methodist Church.

Hagerty He Won't Run for Governor

En route with Eisenhower, March 18 (AP)—James C. Hagerty says he will reject, as many times as he is asked, a suggestion that he run for governor of New York state.

"The answer is no," said the presidential press secretary when asked for comment on an editorial proposal Saturday that he seek the Republican nomination.

The Binghamton, N. Y., Press said that Hagerty, 48, would be "a Cinderella candidate... who had worked his way up through service in government to become one of the most influential rested last week and charged with bribing a lawyer to join the staff of the rackets committee and feed him information. Hoffa, free on $25,000 bond, has protested his innocence.

Beck to Ask Hoffa

Dave Beck, teamsters president, said in Tacoma, Wash. last night "I intend to ask" Hoffa about the charges. Beck interviewed on television (CBS—Face the Nation), said he had not talked with Hoffa since Hoffa's arrest last Wednesday night.

But, Beck, said in reply to a question, "I am not going to turn my back on any man... until he has his day in court."

The rackets committee has given Beck until midday next Wednesday to decide whether he will comply voluntarily with its demands that he furnish his personal financial records for the 1949-1955 period.

There have been allegations that union funds were used to pay some of Beck's personal expenses.

Asked last night whether the union paid some $25,000 or $30,000 to remodel his home in Seattle, Beck replied: "They most certainly did not." Beck said "it most definitely was out of my own pocket."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), a member of the committee, said in Milwaukee last night he plans to ask for a probe of the United Auto Workers Union (UAW).

"From the information I have," uncovered in our investigation of the teamsters union will smell like a high-grade perfume in comparison to what we will find" in the UAW.

McCarthy declined to go into details.

In Detroit, a UAW spokesman said that if the union is called by the committee, it would appear voluntarily and answer all questions. But, he added, "we would not dignify further at this time a cheap attempt at publicity by smearing honest people..."

members of the President's official family."

"You know what Sherman said," Hagerty told reporters, "he goes for me too." Civil War Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman said in answer to suggestions he run for president that "if nominated, I will not run; if elected, I will not serve."

Hagerty is a resident of New York, a former New York Times reporter and was press secretary to Thomas E. Dewey when the latter was governor.

$100,000 Damages Action Starts Here

An action for $100,000 damages brought by Jacobus Hockx and another against William Embree and another was taken up for trial before a jury in Supreme Court today. Hockx, a resident of Bronx, was visiting a sister at Cherrytown last August when he was injured by a truck operated by defendant. Plaintiff alleges while putting things in the trunk of his car, a truck of defendant came down a hill at a high rate of speed. He attempted to jump from its path but was struck and severely injured. The accident happened on August 22, last.

Philip Korn with N. LeVan Haver as trial counsel appeared for plaintiff and Donald H. McCann appears for defendant.

An action for separation brought by Emma Mauro against Dennis J. Mauro Jr., was stricken from the calendar. Napoletano, Kelly and Saccaman for plaintiff and Lewis Ted Reale appeared as counsel for defendant.

Gatlinburg, Tenn., March 18 (AP)—Three Boy Scouts, missing overnight on a hike in the rugged Great Smoky Mountains, were found today huddling in a shack on 6,693-foot Mt. Le Conte. Mrs. Meir wanted to know: What will the United States do to implement these words?

As one Israeli spokesman put it:

"Israel has little doubt where American policy stands, but it interprets the recent Washington talks as pledges of action, not merely of attitudes."

The Israelis contended that unless Nasser is stopped in Gaza he will be encouraged to "act recklessly" in other areas of dispute, such as future operation of the Suez Canal. UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is expected to go to Cairo this week for Suez talks with Nasser.

Dig for Japanese Officer's Treasure On Malayan Coast

Telok Anson, Perak State, Malaya, March 18 (AP)—Laborers under strong police escort are digging at Bagan Datoh, on the Malayan west coast, for a hoard of gold and jewelry buried by a senior Japanese army officer during the occupation.

Digging began three weeks ago on orders of an unidentified Singapore business man who acted on instructions from Japan. The treasure is believed to have been buried by an army intelligence officer, named Suzuki, who arrived here in 1944 to work as an accountant for the Japanese timber firm of Nami Hira Shokai.

Suzuki subsequently traveled often to Sumatra and Java, but it is not known whether the gold and gems were seized in Malaya or brought from Indonesia. The businessman negotiated with the Perak government, which gave permission to unearth the hoard. By agreement, the government will get a share of the treasure.

PROTECTION FOR VOLUNTEERS

The new Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law, which now is in effect, will bring increased benefits to the families of volunteer firemen killed in the line of duty, and greatly simplify the general procedures for obtaining benefits as the result of injuries.

The new law replaces the old dual system of coverage under the General Municipal Law and the Workmen's Compensation Law, substituting one single, simplified system of benefit payments for volunteer firemen. This change will eliminate the confusion of the old dual system, which left both volunteer firemen and administering officials in doubt as to the firemen's rights and benefits.

The new law also increases benefits granted widows and volunteer firemen killed in line of duty. A new lump sum of $1,000 in addition to the $3,000 death benefit already in effect will henceforth be given the widow of a volunteer fireman killed in line of duty. Provision also is made to commence weekly death benefits immediately rather than 125 or more weeks after death as has been the practice.

The volunteer firemen have performed a worthwhile service for the taxpayers in protecting their properties down through the years. They have risked their life and limb at times in fighting flames to save lives and property.

Day and night these volunteer fire fighters stand ready to fight fire in all kinds of weather. And they work without compensation.

This is a well deserved recognition, which has long been overdue.

Few men have captured the imagination of the American public as did Richard E. Byrd when he led his early expeditions to the Antarctic about a quarter of a century ago. It was he who made the first flight to the South Pole, and he who spent months in solitary vigil at an advanced weather base more than 100 miles from Little America.

Unlike many other heroes, Admiral Byrd continued to perform feats of daring and great worth long after the initial act that brought him to public attention. His death at the age of 68 has deprived the world of one of the great explorers of modern times, the foremost air explorer of them all.

Although his activities were not confined to the Antarctic, it was on that great white continent that he left his most enduring mark. He led his first expedition to Antarctica in 1928, returned in 1933 and again in 1939. After service with the fleet during World War II, he was placed in command of the Navy's 1946 expedition to the Antarctic, Operation Highjump. A decade later, he was again flying over the frozen continent, and at the time of his death he was in overall charge of this country's permanent unit for Antarctic activity.

Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd was one of the great exponents of 20th century exploration using all the resources of science. During his lifetime our knowledge of the vast continent at the South Pole has been greatly expanded. For much of that knowledge we can thank the inspired leadership of this man who was the first to fly over both the North Pole and the South Pole.

Former Vice President John Nance Garner says it's not that taxes are too high, it's just that "the appropriations demanding the taxes are too high." But no matter how philosophical you get about it, the tax bite still hurts.

Things have been happening so fast in the stock market lately that it's getting hard for a fellow to keep up with the Dow-Joneses.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
HOW THEY SEE US

For a long time, it has been clear that not only do Americans have little understanding of other peoples despite all the propaganda among us to love our neighbors, but that nowhere is our system of life and government understood, although we have spent billions of dollars trying to explain ourselves to others. We have sent thousands of missionaries, teachers, physicians and businessmen to China during the past century but the Chinese people are being told, over the radio, that our system of elections is undemocratic and there is no residue of friendship for us and our system left to cause them to believe that what their government says about us is untrue.

The first reason given for the statement that our elections are undemocratic is that each state has its own election law which places limitations upon the voter. The Chinese have discovered that these limitations number 60. The Chinese people, with or without limitations, have never held a national election of any kind.

I quote from this government-sponsored broadcast from Peking:

"For example, the election law of the states prescribes that the voter has the right to vote only when he or she has resided in that state a required length of time. Some states require the voters to have a minimum of property, a certain educational level, a certain religious belief, or to pay a poll tax. The southern states of the United States also limit the voting right of Negroes. For example in some of these states, 50 to 75 per cent of Negroes have no voting right."

It would be difficult for this authority to uphold this paragraph. For instance, in which state must a voter hold to a particular religious belief? And what is the objection to a voter knowing how to read, except that in China the illiteracy is so high. The broadcast then proceeds:

"The American financial giants frequently contribute their money to the reactionary groups like the Ku Klux Klan and the (American Legion?) which prevent certain citizens from voting by obstruction or threat. Because of these provisions and practices, the votes are usually only one-half of the number of registered voters."

Since when does the American Legion engage in such activities? And why must a citizen vote if he chooses not to? The main objection to our elections by the Red Chinese, it would seem is that the Republicans and Democrats represent the two-party system and that the Communists do not manage to get themselves elected to anything. That is just too bad, but Red China is a monolithic country which does not tolerate opposition parties, although there are some splinter groups which always agree with those in power. The Peking broadcast makes this rather startling explanation as to why Communists are not elected:

"The most interesting case is the election of the House of Representatives. The representatives are elected according to the states' population. Each state is divided into electoral districts, their number corresponding to the number of representatives from that state. Each district may elect one representative. The Republican and Democratic parties use this division of districts to disperse the concentration of Communists and other progressive personnel. They help the governors to divide those areas to form electoral districts. In this way there is no possibility of having a Communist or progressive candidate."

Now that the Chinese have been told how elections are conducted in the United States, maybe they will demand one that is an improvement upon ours.

I lived in China more than 13 years and there was never an election in that country in all that time, although there were many civil wars and much shooting and killing. There has been no election of any kind since and there is still plenty of killing and shooting, particularly in the western part of the country where active opposition to the Communist regime continues to a degree. If there were a national free election, secret and mechanically controlled, it would be interesting to see if the Communists would retain control.

At any rate, under our system, we do have some choice, although there are times when one wonders whether the choice amounts to much. In Red China, there is no choice. One accepts the party in power or one's troubles are very great indeed.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
ENURESIS

Enuresis is the involuntary bed-wetting during sleep by a child over three years of age. There are so many different causes that parents may despair of finding the correct one; they include lack of training, emotional instability, neuroses, or unhappy surroundings; local irritations, infections or pinworms; various contributing factors such as tuberculosis, spicy foods, fatigue, underactive thyroid gland, epilepsy and mental deficiency. Naturally this requires the consideration and search for all possible causes by physical examination. Psychiatric study may be required to identify causes due to emotional instability or maladjustment.

The outlook is favorable in children who have no mental deficiency or severe organic disease. Proper training and habit formation and the correction of local abnormalities usually are effective. If enuresis persists beyond puberty (when the boy and girl enter adolescence), the outlook must be guarded in all cases, regardless of the cause.

Some suggestions given in Merck's Manual may help parents with this problem.

1. A habit of voiding regularly about every four hours should be established in all children by the third year. Training should start at about fifteen months; this usually is the age at which the normal baby begins to stay dry for about two hours.

2. Toilet training should not be started too early or done too forcefully, lest the child come to hate going to the bathroom.

3. There should be a child's special toilet seat, preferably one that rests on the floor such as a potty-chair. This tends to overcome the feeling of insecurity produced by sitting on a high bowl and the fears often engendered by flushing the toilet. The toilet should not be flushed while the child is on it.

4. Small children can be seated backward on the toilet seat so they can hold on to the back to support themselves.

5. The child should be placed on the toilet seat every two hours, kept there for a few minutes, but not urged to pass urine. He will soon learn to urinate only when placed on the toilet and, by the age of two, will begin to express his need to go there.

6. Parents should not punish the child for accidents brought on by preoccupation or excitement.

7. Finally, the child should learn to use other bathrooms when away from home.

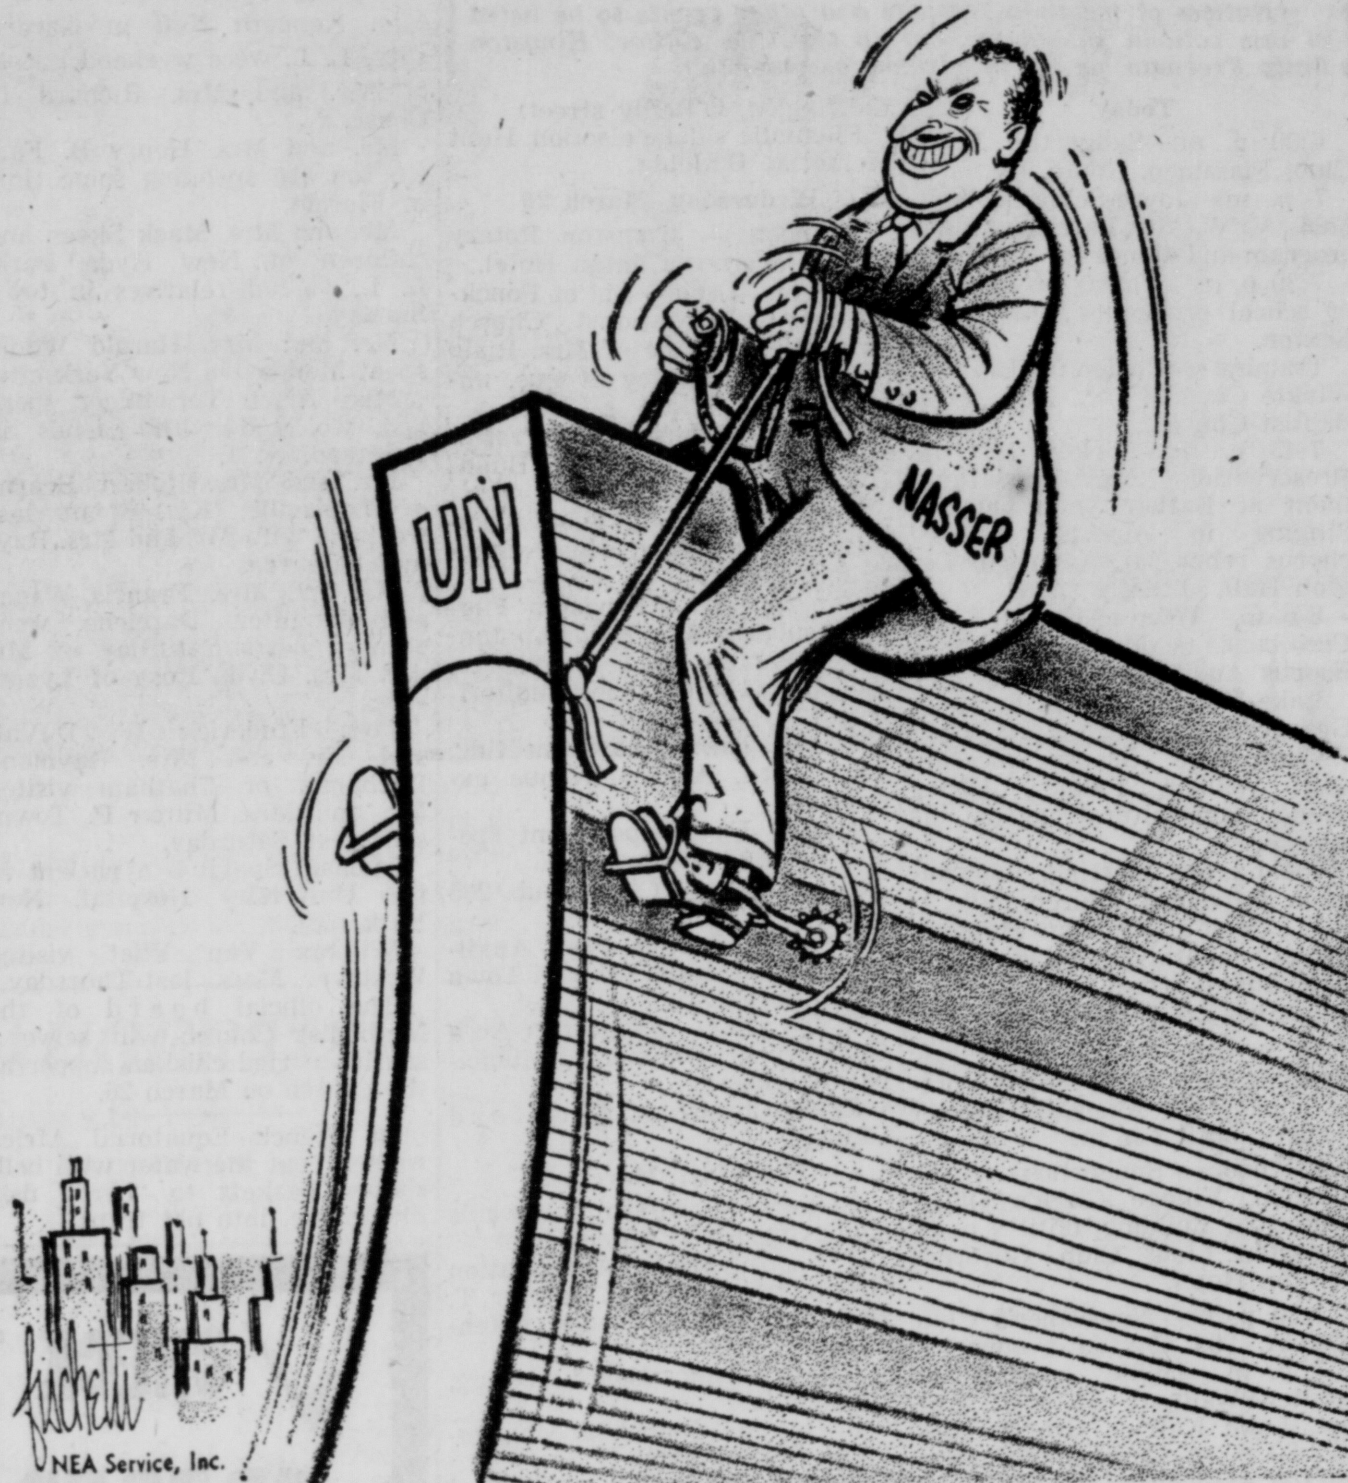

The child who bed-wets should be required to empty his bladder at bedtime and should be completely awakened just before the usual time of bed-wetting (generally about two hours after going to sleep) and required to urinate again, in the proper place. This time interval for awakening can be gradually increased and can be abandoned in about six months if the enuresis ceases.

U. S. Plugs Hole in Defenses

Hawk Missile Effective Against Any Low Target

(Editor's note: America long has been considered vulnerable to low level attack because its anti-aircraft weapons are designed primarily for high altitude targets. To fill this gap, army ordnance has developed a new guided missile, the Hawk.

Although it still hasn't been announced officially, here's what it can do.)

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 18 (AP)—Army Ordnance has plugged a hole in America's defenses with a new guided missile it calls the Hawk.

Those who know say it is capable of destroying anything that flies, no matter how low.

Yank airmen who skip-bombed Rabaul and strafed ammo trains on the road to Berlin, long have been saying that America's air defense was a sucker for treacherous low flying targets. They base this belief on the fact that anti-aircraft weapons in this country are designed primarily for high altitude work.

Designed to Stop Attack
What if the Russians took advantage of this obvious weakness and hurled low flying aircraft or missiles at American cities and industrial areas from submarines parked off San Francisco or New York?

Army Ordnance says the Hawk, details on which are yet to be released, is designed to stop such an attack.

"They can send it right down the road," one army officer said, "and we'll kill it dead."

This new missile, when it is released, will carry an atomic warhead, capable not only of shooting down the target it goes after, but destroying also whatever weapon the enemy missile or aircraft will have on board.

The Hawk will become part of effective operation against low altitude flying.

His use of the word "perfecting" is interesting.

The Hawk already is a deadly, screaming missile, with electronic power to think for itself and to seek out and destroy once the target has been detected.

As soon as Ordnance is satisfied the Hawk is ready for use it will be turned over to Mickelsen's men.

Mickelsen, a tall, distinguished looking officer with snow white hair, is known as "Mr. Anti-aircraft" by his fellow officers because he has been in this branch of the service since it was organized 40 years ago.

On War Footing

"I don't think the American people realize the front lines are right over their heads," Mickelsen said. "Anti-aircraft Command is on a war footing. It has to be all the time."

Mickelsen's battalions of Nike anti-aircraft batteries surround every major population and industrial area in the United States.

"It's hardest on the married soldier," Mickelsen said. "He might live within 10 miles of his job and only get to see his family once a week."

The general said it was necessary to "work something out" because anti-aircraft men are being encouraged to stay in, after learning all the technical aspects involved.

Nike, named for the winged Greek Goddess of Victory, is opposed to the Joint Continental Air Force.

Extending Warning Lines

"Both the air force and the navy have the responsibility for giving us early warning," Mickelsen said. He pointed out that this warning could come from radar picket ships at sea, aircraft, the Texas Towers in the Atlantic and the Dew Line to the north, which now is being extended into the Aleutians.

"Certain units are ready to strike within minutes," Mickelsen said. He added that each Nike battery has its own radar detection system and could act independently if necessary.

In order to coordinate attacks and guard against all batteries firing at the same target, the Nike system uses a missile master. This device is something like a TV console and keeps all batteries informed as to who is shooting at what.

The rest of the interview went like this.

Okay, the Nike system can destroy anything that flies. How about ballistic missiles, fired out of the atmosphere into space, such as the German V2 that terrorized London and Antwerp?

"The V2 is crude compared to the missiles we have today. We can track the V2, and have at White Sands, but perhaps this is taking unfair advantage of the missile because we knew where it was being fired."

What chance has a Nike battery against ballistic missiles fired from submarines off the coast?

"You could launch a ballistic missile from a submarine, I suppose, but it would have to have a large platform. You realize a ballistic missile has to be launched vertically."

"We licked the V1 in Europe by detecting it and shooting it down. We couldn't detect the V2 then because we didn't know where they were being launched. If we can detect them being fired, though, we can track them."

"The V1 and the V2 were crude. They weren't in the same ball park as the missiles we have today."

Is the defense of the United States adequate?

"You can't answer that question simply. It's our objective—an airtight defense. I am hopeful, more than hopeful, I anticipate it can be done."

Soviets Seen Keeping Alive Arabs' Anti-West Feeling

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 18—Crisis after crisis is coming in the Middle East—and the main reason is the deliberate effort of the Soviet government to use Nasser and any other rulers in the Arab world to keep alive the fires of hostility to the West.

The UN Assembly may prove powerless to bring peace in the area. It may turn out that joint action by the United States and its Allies will alone bring the Nasser government to terms.

For it is apparent that the Gaza Strip isn't going to be neutralized if Moscow can prevent it and if Nasser can bluff his way to a permanent occupation by his own forces. It is suspected also that when the government of Saudi Arabia announces that Israel's ships will not be allowed to use the Gulf of Aqaba, the Communists—notwithstanding the king's friendliness to the United States—may have managed to penetrate the Saudi Arabia government, itself.

In all this the Department of State is trying still to play the role of mediator but is hard pressed by the pleas of Israel that her withdrawal of troops were based shall not be disregarded nor Nasser again given a free hand.

The sympathy of Congress as well as the executive branch of the government is on the side of Israel in the latest phase of the dispute because it is felt a "more commitment" was made to Ben Gurion to persuade him to withdraw his troops on the assurance there would be security for Israel against Egyptian raids.

But the big question—what action America can or might take—is still unresolved. In matters of this kind it is logical to apply diplomatic influence first and later perhaps economic pressure in order to get Nasser to change his mind.

Dulles' Revelation

Meanwhile, an interesting revelation has been made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles with reference to a point that has often been discussed in press reports but never clarified, namely the relationship between the breakdown by the United States of negotiations for the financing of the Aswan Dam and the subsequent seizure of the Suez Canal by Nasser. Unfriendly critics here and abroad have charged that it was all Mr. Dulles' fault and that had he not broken off the negotiations maybe the canal would not have been seized.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

This seems to be just the right time to recall that the Teamster's union was Franklin D. Roosevelt's host at the Statler Hotel in Washington for the kick-off speech of the 1944 campaign. This was a wild orgy, well described later by Merriman Smith, the White House correspondent of the United Press in his intimate memoir, "Thank You, Mr. President."

Dan Tobin, then president of the Teamsters and a parasite with royal social tastes like those of Henry the Eighth, was the personal host. The banquet room was jammed with goons. Smith later put it to Roosevelt that he "deliberately set out to get Tom Dewey mad."

That probably was the way of it for any self-respecting American opposing Roosevelt would have been disgusted by the spectacle of the bloated old loafer at the head of one of the then worst rackets in the country presiding over a binge with the President of the United States revealing as Smith put it, "in the thug's ovation."

The spectacle was only partially described at the time, late in Sept. of 1944. The exact disposition of the episode in which a young naval officer was gang-banged by super-charged patriots of the Tobin gang for lese majeste toward Roosevelt was never set forth. This youngster was slugged by an undermanned unit of civilians, on a vague charge that he had made disparaging remarks about Roosevelt.

Smith said the binge was like any other presidential banquet until Roosevelt started to speak. Then it became a dock-walloping brawl. Roosevelt chose that way to turn out a heavy vote and for the further purpose of getting Dewey's goat. To that end, he, Dewey, was the target.

"You could launch a ballistic missile from a submarine, I suppose, but it would have to have a large platform. You realize a ballistic missile has to be launched vertically."

"We licked the V1 in Europe by detecting it and shooting it down. We couldn't detect the V2 then because we didn't know where they were being launched. If we can detect them being fired, though, we can track them."

"The V1 and the V2 were crude. They weren't in the same ball park as the missiles we have today."

Grow Younger
Keep growing and you keep young. A new idea will make you feel younger. Develop it and it will develop you. Quickened your mental throb with the new idea. Begin now. Stop talking about being too old to grow. You pass by trees daily, 100, 200 years old, still they are growing. Grow something, create something, produce something and the law of youth will pervade your being. Growing old is a habit. People travel along the years up the hill of life till they reach a certain point where they begin to think they must be growing old. Think it's time to sag. Think it's time to droop. Then they begin to talk about it--write letters about it--to feel around for it and look for it in others. Finally the habit they inherited from the race is on, and they are old. You should be younger at 60 than at 16, because you have more of life, grow each day, and make each day grow. Check discord. Check complaining. Stop quarreling. Root criticism out of your life. You are bigger than these things. Get into harmony, and stay young. -- Scottish Newsagent (English Digest)

Britain Is Facing Pressure to Cut Its H-Bomb Test

London, March 18 (AP)—After a long and costly fight to match Soviet and American might in nuclear bombs, Britain is now facing mounting pressure at home to call off her first H-bomb test.

The government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan intends to go ahead anyway in the Christmas Island area in the Pacific. The government holds the tests are necessary for western defense and to show Britain is a major power in the nuclear age.

Macmillan has told critics there is no concrete evidence the explosions on top of tests carried out by the United States and Soviet Union, will cause genetic damage.

Must Be Prepared

Britain is trying for "a comprehensive disarmament agreement covering both nuclear and conventional disarmament," Macmillan said recently adding: "In the absence of such an agreement, however, they consider it essential to continue to develop and manufacture nuclear weapons which are the most powerful existing deterrent to aggression."

Britain, with scarce resources, manpower and money, has fired at atomic weapon and for years has sought to perfect a nuclear bomb.

Now when the time for an air-drop test has come, public opinion—newspapers, public figures, and scientists of all political shades—is turning against the explosions.

"Stop poisoning the world," said one headline.

Site Possible Influence

Another newspaper suggested that Britain could assume moral leadership in the world by cancelling tests and perhaps influencing Moscow and Washington to do the same.

Opinion was influenced by three official protests by Japan. Tokyo claims the tests might endanger her fishing interests in the area. Japanese scientists say there is grave possibility the tests will injure health.

Prof. Alexander Haddow, director of a research institute at Royal Cancer Hospital, told members of Parliament: "The American, British and Soviet governments have all been guilty of underestimating the effects of nuclear test explosions."

He said he and other scientists are concerned over an increase in Leukemia, a blood disease.

Col. Geoffrey Taylor, a former professor of medicine, accused the government of basing its safety guarantees on out-of-date information. He said it was going ahead on the basis of a report drawn up after four H-bombs had been exploded. Now, he added, the United States and Russia are believed to have exploded 15.

Preparations on Christmas Island, some 1,200 miles south of Hawaii, are virtually complete.

The island's tiny population has been evacuated. No date has been set for "operation grapple," as the test series is named. Shipping and aircraft have been warned to stay out of the Christmas Island area until Aug. 1.

VFW Blood Bank In Saugerties Signs 26 Vols

Three Saugerties volunteer fire companies represented by 26 men have been signed to date for the Saugerties Community blood bank drawing Thursday, March 28 at VFW Hall, Livingston street, according to Miss Marie M. McCutcheon, chairman.

Firemen's night will be observed as a tribute to the volunteer firemen of the town of Saugerties, who have aided the blood bank sponsored by the Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW Post Auxiliary and Dads of Foreign Service Veterans.

Although only Malden-West Camp Fire Company, Centerville Fire Company and R. A. Snyder Fire Company have responded to a letter of appeal, others are expected to act on the request for donors shortly, Miss McCutcheon said.

In her letter to all volunteer companies in the township, Miss McCutcheon said that the supply of blood in the bank had been exhausted and that in the event of an emergency there would be none to meet the need.

Miss McCutcheon said that although it will be firemen's night any one who would like to give blood at this time may do so by contacting her by phone at West Camp for an appointment.

According to Miss McCutcheon more than 50 volunteer firemen are expected to sign up for the drawing.

Experts Avoid Unmakable Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

While Edgar Kaplan was winning the Life Master's Individual, Phillip Feldesman of New York was romping off with the Senior Master's event.

In today's hand Phil exercised admirable self-restraint and stayed out of an unmakeable grand slam.

When North responded to Phil's opening heart bid with a jump to three clubs, Phil hoped for a grand slam and rebid three diamonds as a starter in that direction.

North's second jump to four hearts did nothing to discourage him and Phil decided on a bid of five clubs rather than a Blackwood four no-trump.

North continued his jumping tactics with a leap to six hearts and Phil had almost bid the grand slam when he stopped for a little thought.

The substance of his thought was: where is the ace of spades? His partner ought to hold that card if Phil had given him an excellent chance to show it.

Of course the event was an individual and Phil had never seen his partner before. He

It was just as well, because West opened the ace of spades. Incidentally, while we are on the subject of grand slams, I have a pretty good rule for my own grand-slam bidding. I bid them when they appear to be certain but I never worry about missing one. A successful small slam will do for everyday bridge.

Prior Servicemen Can Select Base In AF Program

The U. S. Air Force now authorizes assignments to prior-servicemen who enlist in the USAF, their choice of bases and Air Force station that are located in 22 eastern and southern states, according to Sgt. Larry Snyder, local USAF Recruiter.

According to the Sergeant, the procedure is simple. All the interested individual has to do is contact the Recruiting Service and if he has a skill that the Air Force needs, and meets enlistment requirements, the Recruiter will confirm the assignment to the individual's base of his own choosing before he enlists.

In many cases prior-servicemen may enlist in the Air Force and retain the rank they held upon discharge. Other advantages of this program are the fact that individuals who are in grade E-4 or higher with over 4 years for pay purposes are entitled to the movement of their dependents and household goods to their new stations.

Nearby air bases that have need for skilled ex-servicemen are Stewart Air Force Base and Mitchell Air Force Base. Local Air Recruiting Office is located at 259 Fair street, and is open 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Ceilings on Credit and description of the item, how service charges are computed, insurance fees and any other costs.

The Republicans have introduced a bill that would have set ceilings ranging from $7 to $13. Democrats had proposed a flat $9 per $100 limit.

The legislation also covers so-called "revolving credit" plans, under which an interest charge is imposed each month on the unpaid balance of an account. This charge would be limited to 1½ per cent up to $500 of unpaid balance and 1 per cent on amounts over $500.

Financing Setup
The 1956 automobile-financing law imposed these limits on installment-plan charges:
For new cars, $7 per $100 per year; for used cars two models old or less, $10 per $100; and for other used cars, $13 per $100.

By removing the $3,000 price limit, the proposed law would bring under state regulation all sales financing of non-commercial vehicles.

Another proposal in the legislative package would amend the banking law to permit banks to make personal and automobile-financing loans for up to three years. The present limit is two years.

The joint legislative committee on winter tourists declared in its annual report that private enterprise should be "encouraged" to provide the skiing facilities "that only the state can now supply."

The committee has proposed a 2½-million-dollar development at Whiteface Mountain in the Adirondacks.
It recommended a study to determine whether the forest preserve could be zoned to set off "recreational areas" in which private parties would be allowed to develop skiing facilities by special permit.

dom." Magsaysay, he added, "will be greatly missed" in the fight against Communism.

South Korean President Syngman Rhee and Indonesian President Sukarno were among the first to express sorrow and regret. Both houses of India's parliament observed two minutes of silence.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who knew Magsaysay in World War 2 as a guerrilla leader, cabled an expression of sympathy to the dead president's family.

Found North of Cebu

A search party which included Magsaysay's brother Jesus, found the chief of state's remains in the twisted charred ruin of his twin-engine plane about 15 miles north of Cebu City.

The president's body was virtually unrecognizable. Identification had to be made through personal effects he carried. Magsaysay's body still had on a partly charred suit and his wrist watch.

The bodies of 20 of the passengers were reduced to near ashes. Five others were scattered over an area of 50 feet on the southwest slope of the mountain.

Two U. S. air force helicopters made the hazardous landing on the jungle-shrouded slope about 100 yards from the wrecked C-47.

Two U. S. marine helicopters were dispatched to the scene today and began carrying out the bodies.

Crash in Dense Jungle

The plane crashed in jungle so dense it took ground rescuers 18 hours to reach the scene. Both wings of the plane were sheared off and at least half the craft was a charred ruin.

A Manila Times photographer who trekked through jungle to the site, said the plane was "scattered over a wide area. The engines were squashed. One propeller was up in the trees, one part of the wing was standing upright."

Newsman Survives

The sole survivor of the crash—Nestor Mata of the Philippine Herald—told his paper the plane had exploded before it hit the mountainside. The Herald said, however, his account contained discrepancies and judged he was suffering from shock when he dictated it. Hospital authorities said Mata was suffering from second and third degree burns and had a 50-50 chance for survival.

The dead in the crash included Brig. Gen. Benito Ebuena, commanding general of the Philippine Air Force, Education Secretary Gregorio Hernandez Jr., Rep. Pedro Lopez of Cebu and former Sen. Tomas Cabili.

Discovery of Magsaysay's body climaxed a nationwide search set in motion nearly 35 hours earlier when the president's plane winged out of Cebu on a pre-dawn 1½ hour flight to Manila it never completed.

During those tense hours, the nation of 22 millions joined Magsaysay's widow and children in the prayerful hope that somehow the president might have survived.

Officials agreed Magsaysay's death could throw the young nation into political turmoil.

Magsaysay's removal as candidate for re-election will signal a wide open race for his Nationalista party nomination.

It could also mean that the Liberal party, still floundering from crushing defeats in the last two elections, might revise its stand and put up a strong candidate this year. Earlier the Liberals had virtually conceded the president would be swept back into office.

Garcia himself is a scholarly career politician who likes to read poetry and play chess.

Garcia was solemn and grave as he raised his right hand to take the oath at 5:54 p. m. in the great high-ceilinged white-walled hall of the council of state.

Ceremony Short

The simple ceremony took scarcely more than a minute. It was witnessed by the cabinet, leaders of Congress and newsmen. Garcia was dressed in the same blue suit he wore when he stepped from the plane which brought him from Australia.

In a brief acceptance speech, the new president said, "knowing well my limitations I ask for constructive criticism."

The cabinet then went into closed session. One of its first acts was to arrange a state funeral March 22 for the late president. A joint session of Congress was scheduled for the funeral.

Garcia signed a proclamation declaring a month of national mourning from the funeral date until April 22.

The American marine and air force helicopters meanwhile completed the grim task of ferrying the bodies of Magsaysay and his companions to the Cebu mountainside to Cebu City. The bodies will be flown to Manila tomorrow in special planes.

Spokesman for both parties claimed victory today, however, political observers indicate that the majority race will again be close. Some observers also predict that the CPP block on the board of trustees will be split with the election of one or more Independent party candidates. The incumbent board of trustees consists of CPP members. Other members of the board whose terms do not expire this year are David S. Cunningham and Roy S. Helmsortel.

Rondout Valley, Saugerties Rule First Team Picks

Coaches Also Select 2nd and 3rd Clubs

Rondout Valley Central's John Mustion and Tom Gilman, Saugerties High's Austin Kerin and Billy Zeilman and Marlboro's Richie Mandia were named to the 1956-57 UCAL basketball first team by a vote of the loop's seven coaches, according to an announcement today.

Mustion led the balloting with 103 points out of a possible 105. Kerin was runnerup in the voting with 100 points, Zeilman and Mandia each received 81 and Gilman 71.

Onteora Central dominated the second team, landing three players on the club. Ted Jensen, John Frankle and Lon Vanacore gained recognition along with Highland's John Gersch and John O'Connor of Wallkill.

A third team was also selected and because of a tie in the voting, six players were named. They include three from Saugerties—Skip Kugelmann, Jim Erceg and Don Mormille—plus Art Gribbins of Onteora, Dave Williams of Highland and Daryl Eckert of Marlboro.

Mustion Repeats

Mustion is the only player to repeat as a first team selection. Last year he received 85 points which was third high in the balloting.

Gilman and Mandia were second team choices last season. The club features the three best centers in the league and also the top scoring trio in Mandia, Kerin and Mustion. Together they tallied 872 points. Zeilman was no slouch in the point-making department either, finishing in the first ten.

Almost any coach would be proud to have the team. In Mandia, Kerin and Mustion, especially the latter two, you have tremendous rebounding strength besides potent scoring. Zeilman and Gilman are swift afoot and deft ball-handlers and are ideal for backcourt work.

The entire first team won't be around to haunt the opposition next season. All are seniors with the exception of Kerin who is a junior but he has used up his eligibility.

Method of Selection

The method of selecting the all-star teams was through mailed ballots forwarded to Bill Straub, Saugerties Athletic Director. Each coach submitted a list of 15 players rating his first choice as 15 and his last as 1. The highest possible total any player could receive for unanimity was, of course, 105.

The only unanimous pick last year was center Werner Wustrau of Rondout Valley which then was known as Kerhonkson High. Taking part in the voting were coaches John 'Chick' Meehan (Rondout Valley); John 'Bud' Smith (Saugerties); Bob Relyea (Highland); Joe Cash (Marlboro); Ed Witko (Onteora); Ernie Thompson (Wallkill) and Larry Johnson (New Paltz).

Warriors On Spot

(By The Associated Press)

The Philadelphia Warriors, defending champions, one game down to Nationals in their best-of-three Eastern Division National Basketball Assn. semifinal playoff series, must win at Syracuse tonight or the jig is up. Syracuse won the opener at Philadelphia Saturday night, 103-96 and one more win would send the Nats against the Boston Celtics for Eastern honors. If the Warriors win tonight, the third game will be played at Syracuse Wednesday.

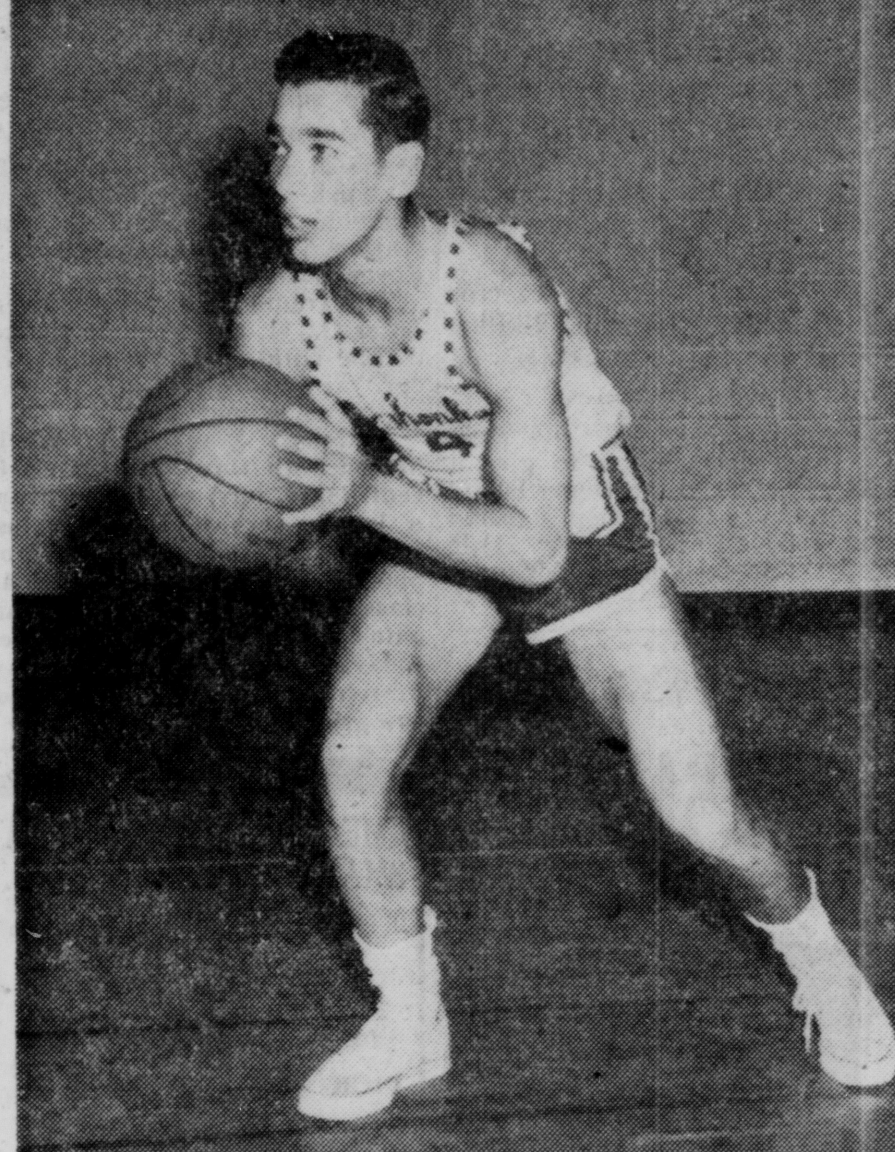

Seven playoff records were shattered yesterday in the one NBA game played when the Lakers defeated the Fort Wayne Pistons 131-127 in Minneapolis, to start the Western Division first round playoffs.

Minneapolis made four records, hitting for 41 points in the first period, 70 at halftime, 107 after three quarters, and 53 field goals in 101 attempts for another.

The two-team total of 258 was a record, as was the total of 139 points for the first half and 204 for three periods. The Lakers go to Fort Wayne for the resumption of the best-of-three series tomorrow night.

Woodstock Sweeps Twin Bill

Woodstock Varsity went on another one of its scoring binges as it whipped Phoenicia, 105-76, and Windham, 96-75, in a doubleheader Friday at Woodstock.

The Varsitymen threw up the ball 119 times and connected on 47 of the heaves in whipping Phoenicia which featured this year's Onteora Central varsity. Big Bill Kleine and Lloyd Tice were the top point-pourers for the victors with 27 and 23 points, respectively. Alan Van Wagenen came through with 17.

Trio Sets Pace

Neil Grant, Art Gribbins and Lou Vanacore carried the brunt of the point-making for Phoenicia, combining for 68 tallies. Grant was the leader with 37, Gribbins hit 23 and Vanacore 18. Van Wagenen went on a rampage in the final period, hitting 7 of 11 tries in a 34-point spree. Kleine bagged 9 field goals in the second half and overall made 13 baskets in 19 attempts.

Woodstock continued its phenomenal shooting in the nightcap, but wasted very few shots. It connected on 39 of 72 efforts including 13 of 16 in the second period and 10 of 18 in the fourth.

Tice Shows Way

Tice showed the way this time with 21 on 8 for 11. Kleine tabbed 15, Hilton 14 on 6 for 10 and Koehn 11 on 5 for 9. Hilton bucketed 4 for 4 in the final chukker as his club won going away. Koehn's 4 for 5 in the opening session was the next best effort.

Windham was led by Maben with 25. Beers canned 17, Lehman 14 and Cole 11. Woodstock winds up its season Friday against an all-star team from Kingston which features several present and past-day high school luminaries.

German Fighter

Rules 2-1 Pick

(By The Associated Press)

Stefan Redl, 23, a superbly conditioned, undefeated German welterweight now fighting out of Passaic, N. J., is a 2-1 favorite to stretch his victory streak to 13 tonight in a television 10-rounder against Rocky Al Milone of Brooklyn at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

A pro less than a year, Redl served notice he was ready to make some big moves soon when he decisively outpointed Paddy DeMarco, former lightweight champion, on Feb. 18.

Bob Baker, of Pittsburgh, and Jeff Dyer of Springfield, a couple of big heavyweights, collide tonight in a 10-rounder at Holyoke, Mass.

Bout Rated Even
Tiny Miguel Berrios, Puerto Rico, and counterpunching Carmelo Costa, Brooklyn, are rated even for their featherweight elimination 12-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night (NBC radio-TV, 10 p. m., EST). The winner earns the right to meet Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey in the semifinal round of the tourney to determine a successor to retired Sandy Saddler. The semifinal victor then will be pitted against France's Cherif Hamia, European titleholder, for the world 126-pound championship.

The Golden Gloves will make another appearance on the Wednesday night radio-television program out of Chicago. This time it will be the national G.C. championships with East facing West.

Kingston Basketball Tournament Set to Open Tuesday

Local Stars Face Otisville Quintet In First Contest Pine Plains Opposes Pearl River in Windup

The fourth annual Kingston Basketball Tournament gets under way tomorrow (Tuesday) night with an attractive doubleheader at the municipal auditorium.

Leading off the proceedings at 7:15 will be the Kingston Stars against Otisville. The nightcap pits the Pine Plains Bombadiers and All-American Chet Forte against Richards Sporting Goods of Pearl River.

Although the first local appearance of Forte is the eye-catcher, the first game may prove to be the most interesting affair. The rosters released today by both teams point toward a rousing struggle.

Loaded With Talent

The Stars are loaded with the best area talent available. Skipping through their squad one comes across names like George Carpozis, Champ Holstein, Dick Terlinger, Lloyd Tice, Andy Juhl, and Al Long, all proven city stars. And from Saugerties comes Sawyer cage coach Bud Smith and his outstanding performer this year, 6-7 Austin Kerin. Other capables include Art Waters and John Zatorski. Huyler Van Wagenen is the manager.

Otisville will unfurl a tall club paced by former Adelphi College star Ronnie Copeland. The mountaintop, who have enjoyed a great measure of success in past tourney appearances here, also boast veterans like the Walker brothers, Roy and Bob, ex-Middletown Royals set-shot ace Bob Wittman, and rugged John Clausman.

Some of the younger stars are Gerry Ketcham, who played for Orange County Community College, Ken Hoskins, diminutive Bill Brockett, Don Sarno, Dick Roda and Harvey Collins. The latter two are the tallest players on the squad, ranging about 6-5.

Bombadiers Favored

Sidelineers have tabbed the Bombadiers as the early favorites to take it all. In Forte, they possess the best little man in college ranks this season. The Columbia ace, who stands just 5-9, was everybody's All-American and the fifth leading scorer in the country. One wire service voted him player of the year honors.

Ted Dwyer, who with Forte was the Lions' co-captain, will also be in the lineup. The 6-1 guard teamed with "The Jet" in backcourt to give the Lions one of the top rear-court combinations in the nation. He is a fine defensive performer and playmaker and good scorer.

Dwyer and Forte will be backed up by an able supporting cast paced by former Siena great Timmy Hill and Albany State Teachers' prolific scorer Gary Holway. Hill is the all-time Siena scoring king, while Holway led the Peds to one of their most successful seasons in history this year (17-5) with a better than 22-point average.

Pine Plains manager George Stuetzle also has Holway's coach, Dick Sauer, in the fold, plus Dutchess' coach, Phil Spencer, Chet Martin, 6-7 Phil Spencer, Bob Vincent, Dom Willis, Walt Shook and Homer Reichert.

Richards Tough Club
In Richards Sporting Goods, the Bombadiers will be facing no soft touch. The Pearl River team has corraled some of the best talent in their section and have even gone into New Jersey for added strength.

Among the standouts is Dick Anglin, former All-New Jersey high school ace who played for Mount Saint Mary's of Emmitsburg, Md., one of the nation's finest small college teams this year. The Mounties finished third in the recent NAIA tourney and won the Mason-Dixon Conference title for the fourth straight year.

The rest of the squad includes Bob Hagen, Don Konkin, Bob Beers, Bill Parks, Jim Metress, Lou Kliewe, Ralph Erickson, George Morga, Chico Hernandez and Frank Larson.

Second night action is slated for Thursday. The opening game matches Economy Cleaners (Newburgh) against Staatsburg American Legion. In the after-piece, Culver Motors of Port Jervis will oppose Van Vooris Lumber of Fishkill.

Seattle Debuts In NIT Tonight Against Bonnies

New York, March 18 (AP)—Top-seeded Seattle, boasting Elgin (Rabbit) Baylor, 18 straight victories and two 6-foot, 7 operators, makes its first start in the National Invitation Tournament against St. Bonaventure in Madison Square Garden tonight.

In the other half of the quarterfinal round doubleheader, Manhattan takes on Memphis State.

All indications point to an uncomfortable night for St. Bonaventure. The Bonnies have a 16-5 record compared to 22-2 for Seattle and certainly cannot come near the Chieftains' height.

Baylor is 6-6, and Dick Stricklin and Thorton Humphries, each are 6-7.

As for Baylor... well, he may not be the eighth wonder of the world, but if he keeps up at his present pace, they're going to have to legislate against him.

Baylor's Credentials

He brings the following credentials:

1. A 720-point season average, or 30 points per game.

2. A .488 shooting average from the floor.

3. A total of 483 rebounds.

If that isn't enough, he has been called the "best college basketball player in the country" by Santa Clara coach, Bob Feerick.

Seattle drew a first-round bye, but St. Bonaventure showed it could hustle in its 90-72 rout of Cincinnati Saturday night. The ease of the Bonnies' victory was surprising. Brendan McCann was high man with 17.

Manhattan Favored

Manhattan, probably the top team in the New York area, will be slightly favored over Memphis State in the other half of the twin bill. This is despite the fact that State shows a 22-5 record against Manhattan's 15-8.

Memphis State is a fast outfit, but didn't live up to expectations in downing Utah, 77-75, Saturday.

The quarter-finals will be completed tomorrow night with second-seeded Bradley (19-7) playing Xavier of Cincinnati (20-7) which swept past Seton Hall, 85-79, and Temple (18-8) tangling with Dayton (19-8) which trounced St. Peter's 79-71.

The semifinals are scheduled for Thursday and the final for Saturday.

Suffolk Game Group Opposes Pending Bill

Patchogue, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—The Suffolk Fish and Game Assn. has announced its "strenuous opposition" to a pending legislative bill that would authorize professional hunters to reduce the sizes of deer herds in Suffolk county and some other areas of the state.

The Long Island group, which lists 1,500 sportsmen as members, made its stand public yesterday.

Eastern Suffolk county is one of the areas in the state where an excess deer population has been wandering into populated areas and onto highways.

Connacht Wins Cup

Dublin, March 17 (AP)—Connacht beat Munster today in the Railway Cup (football) final by 2 goals 9 points (15 points) to 1-6 (9 points). Munster, however, won the Railway Cup (hurling) final beating Leinster by 5-7 (22 points) to 2-5 (11 points).

Exhibition Wrapup

Dodgers' Zimmer Making Determined Comeback Bid

The Associated Press

It appeared today as if this will be the year that Don "Comeback Kid" Zimmer will make the grade as a regular infielder with the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

Zimmer's second home run of the spring off Jim Bunning of the Detroit Tigers accounted for all of Brooklyn's runs yesterday as the Dodgers won a 3-2 grapefruit exhibition at Miami.

Baldy injured twice during his career by "bean" balls, Zimmer—who played second base, probably his opening day position—was almost hit in the head by Bunning's first pitch.

Second Inning Rumpus

It was the second inning, and John Roseboro who had doubled and Gino Cimoli who had singled were on base. Zimmer got up swinging and on the next pitch he lined the ball over the left-center wall 360 feet away.

Zimmer, a 26-year-old native of Cincinnati who now resides in St. Petersburg, Fla., was purchased by the Dodgers from their Mobile, Ala., farm club in 1952 and optioned to St. Paul of the American Association in 1953, billed as the eventual successor to Pee Wee Reese at shortstop. On July 7 that year a pitch fractured his skull at Columbus, O., and he was out for the season.

Last June 23 at Brooklyn in a game with Cincinnati, Zimmer suffered a cheek bone fracture and concussion when struck by a pitch thrown by Hal Jeffcoat.

He played only 17 games all season and in 20 times at bat got six hits for a .300 average.

In other games yesterday the Washington Senators defeated the Milwaukee Braves 5-3, the New York Yankees blanked the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-0, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Boston Red Sox 4-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates squeezed out a 2-1 decision over the Kansas City Athletics, the Chicago White Sox walloped the St. Louis Cardinals 12-3, the Baltimore Orioles took an 11-5 verdict from the Chicago

Cubs, and the New York Giants defeated the Cleveland Indians 9-6.

Pirates Win

Pittsburgh, with a 7-2 exhibition record—best in both leagues—won in the sixth inning at Ft. Myers, Fla. Gene Freese walked, went to third on Dick Groat's double, and came home on a sacrifice fly.

Three White Sox, Larry Doby, Bubba Phillips and rookie Jim Landis got three hits apiece as Chicago mauled a trio of Cardinal pitchers for 18 hits at St. Petersburg, Fla. Wally Moon was 4-for-4 for the Cardinals, including a homer.

At Tampa, Fla., the Yankees showed their power with 15 hits, and the Redlegs pulled a triple play. Mickey Mantle hit homers from both sides of the plate, and Andy Carey had a single, double, triple and homer to bat in four runs. Gil McDougald singled in the third. Mantle was hit by a pitched ball, but Yogi Berra lined to shortstop Alex Grammas, who touched second base and threw to first for the triple killing.

Orioles Get 15 Hits

Baltimore got 15 safeties at Los Angeles off five Cub hurlers, giving the Orioles their third win in five games with Chicago.

Gail Harris, in as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning at Tucson, Ariz., hit a bases-loaded double to break a 6-6 tie with Cleveland.

Washington came from behind with four big runs in the seventh inning at Bradenton, Fla. Jerry Schoonmaker belted a three-run homer as a pinch hitter, the victim being the Braves' Taylor Phillips.

The Red Sox dropped their fifth game as three Philadelphia pitchers—Jim Hearn, Jack Sanford and Gene Snyder—held them to five hits at Sarasota, Fla.

Cooper Captures St. Pete Open

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Every time I got a putter in my hand it seemed like that little old ball was going for the hole.

That was the way weather-beaten, graying Pete Cooper described his solid triumph yesterday in the $12,500 St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

His putting enabled the 42-year-old Lakeland, Fla., veteran to shoot a six-under-par 65 and whip Jackie Burke Jr., Masters and PGA champion, by four strokes for the $1,600 top money.

His 72-hole card read 68-68-68-65—269, fifteen strokes under par. Burke had a 67-68-69-69—273 total, worth $1,300.

Par for the 6,215 yard course is 36-36—71.

Ivan's Inn Qualifies For Pin Contest Final

Charlie Manfro's 648 series (243-180-225) fired Ivan's Inn (2435) into the finals of the "Jenny Bowling Contest" April 20 at Syracuse as the local kegglers whipped four other teams in a roll-off at Binghamton Saturday.

Representing the southeastern section of the state, Ivan's won over the "Jenny Five" by three pins—2909-2906—and took away first prize of $150. In the Syracuse competition, they will be bidding for the top prize of $1,000.

Rest of Team

Phil Versace, George Shufeldt, who captained the team, Hal Broskie and Nick Carl acted as an able supporting cast for Manfro. Versace anchored the team with a 233-581. Shufeldt hit 212-578, Broskie 542 and Carl 476.

John Quinzi, a bowling TV star, walloped 621 for the "Jenny" team. He socked 234, 185 and 192.

Third place was taken by Budweiser (2905). Following it was Ainslees (2789) and Bainbridge (2735).

COMING...a spectacular new Sunoco development

FUELS OF THE FUTURE CUSTOM-BLENDED AT THE PUMP!

For the first time you'll be able to get tailored motor fuel with the exact octane your car needs for full knock-free performance... without wasting money for octane your car can't use. America's first custom-blending system is on its way to you!

THE PROBLEM confronting the entire petroleum industry, the automotive industry, and car owners alike is how to get the right motor fuel for your car for best performance without wasting money.

With only two or three grades to choose from, many motorists are finding it necessary to pay several cents a gallon more for octane higher than their cars actually need.

Sun has the answer...a revolutionary new system of custom-blended motor fuels...tailored to order at the pump...to the precise octane needs of your particular car. As soon as new pumps and storage tanks can be installed, you will be able, for the first time in history, to get from your Sunoco dealer motor fuel of the exact octane your car needs. You will no longer have to pay for octane your car cannot use.

What are Sun's new Fuels of the Future?

Sun's Fuels of the Future are far more than just a two-grade or three-grade offering of gasoline. They are a graduated series of motor fuels custom-blended from one revolutionary automatic blending pump. Each fuel is tailored to the exact requirement of your car, whatever its make, model, age, or compression ratio. It will be an entirely new way of buying gasoline. And you're going to like everything about it.

What's behind Sun's new Fuels of the Future?

Sunoco's Fuels of the Future are based on two history-making developments:

1. A "super-fuel" of an octane quality far beyond the requirements of any car on the road today.
2. A radically new automatic blending pump which can draw from separate tanks and blend this "super-fuel" with Premium Quality Blue Sunoco in varying proportions to deliver motor fuels of different octane strengths. You make your own test in your own car and find the blend which suits your car best. And you pay only for the octane your car needs for maximum performance.

The Motorists' Gasoline Problem:

In recent years, the automotive industry has been turning out engines of higher compression ratio with higher horsepower, requiring motor fuel of higher and higher octane quality.

This ever-widening spread of octane requirements between the new and older cars has created a situation in which many motorists, with only 2 or 3 grades to choose from, have found it necessary to pay several cents a gallon more for octane their cars don't need and can't use.

The Answer:

Sun's new revolutionary way of custom blending at the pump offers each motorist the opportunity of selecting a fuel tailor-made to the octane requirements of his car.

This multi-grade system offers a larger selection of precisely tailored fuels without the wastefulness of other systems which force most motorists to pay for higher octane than their cars actually need.

Sun's custom-blended motor fuels are not only the fuels for today, they are the Fuels of the Future.

How will custom-blending affect the price you pay for gasoline?

It should save you money. Because instead of being limited to two or three grades of gasoline, you will be able to choose through actual test the exact octane blend your car needs...and pay only for that octane. And no matter what the make or model of your car, its age, mileage or condition, there will be a custom-blended Blue Sunoco exactly tailored to its needs for maximum performance at lowest possible cost.

Will famous Blue Sunoco still be available at regular gas price?

Yes! Premium Quality Blue Sunoco is at the highest octane in its history. 9 out of 10 cars on the road today will never need anything finer. It will continue to be available at every Sunoco station...premium quality at regular gas price. The only difference is it now will be known as Blue Sunoco 200, one of Sun's Fuels of the Future.

Sun's custom-blended motor fuels already are available at all Sunoco stations throughout Florida, where thousands and thousands of motorists have switched to the Blue Sunoco blending pump for better performance at lower cost.

How soon will Sun's custom-blended Fuels of the Future be available?

Sun is extending this new custom-blending system throughout its 21-state territory, but because of the complexity of the installations it may be several months, possibly the first of next year, before all of Sun's new Fuels of the Future are available to you. In the meantime, one of the higher octane blends of this great new multi-grade system will be available along with Premium Quality Blue Sunoco.

Two great premium blends to be available in April at most stations

If your Sunoco dealer's driveways are torn up, please be patient. New underground storage tanks are being installed in preparation for the custom-blended Fuels of the Future. The first to be available will be a higher octane blend of super-premium quality known as Blue Sunoco 240. Its octane rating will be so high even the newest high-compression cars can be sure of smooth, knock-free performance. And, of course, Sun's famous Premium Quality Blue Sunoco will continue to be offered at regular gas price, but under its new name of Blue Sunoco 200.

Watch for Blue Sunoco's Fuels of the Future—more than ever America's greatest motor fuel value.

Taxpayer Head Denies Assn. Is Backing GOP Men

As far as the president is concerned, the Ellenville Taxpayers Association is not endorsing any candidates in Tuesday's village election.

Sol Steinhoff said today that the Taxpayers have no candidates in the field of their own, and that there was no meeting called by him to endorse Republicans.

He said he had heard some executive board members had met and decided to back the GOP candidates. But, he added, an organization meeting must be called by the president in accordance with the by-laws.

Steinhoff said a special executive meeting is scheduled tonight to discuss reports that endorsements had been made. Republican candidates are Wesley Whittaker, mayor; Ervin Alward and Jerome Elkin, trustees for two years. Seeking reelection on the Democratic ticket are Mayor Eugene Glusker and trustees Cyrus De Puy and William M. Eckert.

Income Is $2,263 Per Capita in 1955

Washington, March 18 (AP)—New York state had a per capita income of $2,263 in 1955, the Internal Revenue Service reports. The Empire State ranked seventh in that category. Ahead of it were, in order, Delaware, with $2,513, Connecticut, Nevada, The District of Columbia, New Jersey and California. The national average was $1,847.

The internal revenue unit issued two voluminous reports yesterday of a survey on the national income.

In 1953, the reports note, a total of 145 individuals declared income of over a billion dollars before taxes and 53 were residents of New York state. Texas, with 18, was second.

McCarthy Will Ask Probe of Reuther Automobile Union

Milwaukee, March 18 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said yesterday he plans to ask for a Senate investigation of the huge United Auto Workers union, headed by Walter Reuther.

From the information I have, what we have uncovered in our investigation of the Teamsters union will smell like a high-grade perfume in comparison to what we will find in the Reuther union," McCarthy said.

At Detroit yesterday, a union spokesman said UAW leaders would appear voluntarily and would answer all questions if the union were the subject of a Senate committee study.

Farm Wives Handle Financial Reins

Ithaca, March 18 (AP)—New York farmers and their families strolled through the Cornell University campus today as the 46th annual farm and home week got under way.

One hundred displays of the latest in agricultural research and equipment, home economics and veterinary medicine, were set out for the visitors.

Stanley E. Munro of Syracuse, in a speech prepared for delivery today, told farmers that the husband held full control of the pocketbook in only 15 per cent of farm families.

Munro, of the U. S. Savings Bond division, said a study conducted last year by the Institute of Social Research at the University of Michigan showed that wives either shared or dominated finances in 85 per cent of farm families.

Prof. Phyllis Snow of Cornell advised homemakers to make more use of home freezers by "chain cooking." Instead of making one casserole, make two at the same time and put one in the freezer, she said.

The week is sponsored by the state colleges of agriculture, home economics and the veterinary college.

Probing Burglary

Police were asked yesterday to investigate a burglary at Remus Wholesale, 55 Furnace street. The report noted that the building had been entered and an unknown amount of merchandise was taken. Entrance was gained through the breaking of a glass in a door window near a lock. The concern deals in tobacco, candy and other items.

Local Airman Is Cited for Work In Middle East

Airman Second Class James W. Folwell, Jr., U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Folwell of 119 DeWitt street has received a "Letter of Appreciation" from the commanding officer of the 60th Troop Carrier Wing Medium, U. S. Air Force, for his "part in the evacuation of American and other nationals from danger areas of the Middle East to ports of safety."

Young Folwell is attached to the 60th Field Maintenance Squadron. The address is APO 84, USAF.

The letter, signed by Col. Randolph E. Churchill, follows: "It is a privilege and a pleasure to inform you of the appreciation expressed by Col. Clyde Box, commander of the 322nd Air Division for your part in the evacuation of American and other nationals from danger areas of the Middle East to ports of safety."

"You, as well as others concerned gave unhesitatingly without regard to your own safety and welfare to see this operation through to a successful completion. Your unselfish devotion to duty reflects the highest tradition of the U. S. Air Force."

"The combined efforts of yourself and others concerned have brought credit not only to yourself but to this command and the U. S. Air Force. You may well be proud of this distinct accomplishment."

Announcement of the honor came from Sgt. Larry Snyder, head of the local U. S. Air Force Recruiting Office, 259 Fair street.

Favors Hall-Heck Ticket for GOP

New York, March 18 (AP) — Thomas J. Curran, Manhattan Republican leader and a member of the GOP state committee, says a Hall-Heck ticket would be "very excellent" for the GOP in the 1958 state election.

Curran referred to a state headed by former Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall for governor and Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck for lieutenant governor.

"I would like to see Len Hall governor of New York," Curran said in a radio interview yesterday (WCBS).

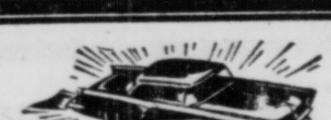

He did not commit himself to a Hall-Heck ticket beyond saying it would be a "very excellent ticket."

Heck has said he would like to run for governor. Hall has not committed himself. Curran said he thought Hall "is probably interested in being a candidate for governor."

Gov. Harriman, Curran said, would be "duck soup for any Republican." The Democratic governor has announced he will seek a second term.
